

1. How to put on a Separate Juban skirt

The hem should be just below the ankles

1. Decide the juban skirt length

Open up the skirt at your back, and adjust the length.

Left end of the panel should come down straightly from the waist position.

2. Decide the juban skirt front width

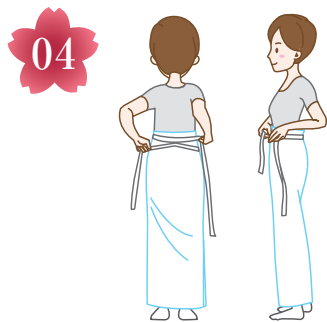

Bring the left panel to the right, and wrap the highest position of your right waist. Layer the right panel over it, and put the back panel tightly against your lower backside.

Pull out the cords

3. Wrap the juban skirt around

Open the left panel by keeping the original front width decided at step 2. Wrap the right panel and raise its hem about 20cm. Layer the left panel over it, and pull out the left and right cords.

4. Cross the cords at your back

Keeping the skirt position fixed, cross the cords at your back and bring them forward.

Tie the cords in the front

5. Tie the cords

Tie the cords firmly in the front not to let the skirt loose. Now the juban skirt is done

2. How to put on a Separate Kimono skirt

The hem should be just about 2cm above the floor

6. Decide the kimono skirt length

Open up the skirt at your back with the belt loop in your left hand, and adjust the length.

Left end of the panel should come down straightly from the waist position.

7. Decide the kimono skirt front width

Bring the left panel to the right, and wrap the highest position of your right waist. Layer the right panel over it, and put the back panel tightly against your lower backside.

Pull out the cords

8. Wrap the kimono skirt around

Open the left panel by keeping the original front width decided at step 2. Wrap the right panel and raise its hem about 10cm above the floor by pull it toward left upper direction. Layer the left panel over it, and pull out the left and right cords.

9. Run through the cord

While keeping the skirt position, cross the cords over at your back. Run the cords through the belt loops at your back, left and right positions.

Tie the cords in the front

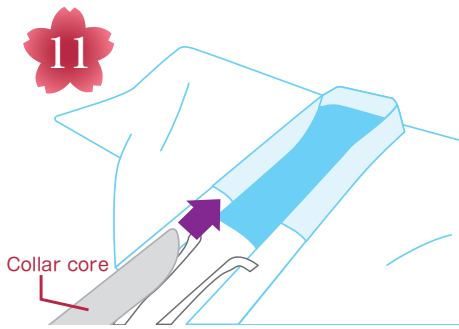

10. Tie the cords

Tie the cords firmly in the front not to let the skirt loose. Now the kimono skirt is done.

Put the Kimono in a laundry net, and clean it in a laundry machine for 3 ~ 5 minutes with weak water stream. Use the neutral detergent (free from fluorescent bleaching agent) for washing. Rinse it for 3 ~ 5 minutes, and air dry it outdoors on a hanger away from direct sunlight. Please wash it with plenty of water to avoid friction to the Kimono. If you find specific instructions and cautions for cleaning, please follow it.

3. How to put on a Separate Juban upper wear

11. Set the juban collar
Insert the collar core into the collar crease.

12. Put on the juban upper wear
Match the left and right collars and pull them out at the same time in the front, making sure the back seam is centered.

13. Straighten the front panel
Put the right cord through the opening under the left sleeve, and layer the left panel over the right panel.

14. Cross the cords and straighten the back panel
Cross the cords over at your back by letting them through the belt loop, pull down the excess fabric at the back waist.

15. Adjust the upper wear and tie the cords
Straighten the collars to hide the hollow of your throat, and tie the cords. Smooth out the front and back panels as above picture.

4. How to put on a Separate Kimono upper wear

16. Set the kimono collar
Fold the collar in half and hook both sides together.

17. Put on the kimono upper wear
Match the left and right collars and pull them out at the same time in the front, making sure the back seam is centered.

18. Straighten the kimono collar
Adjust the kimono collar position as above picture. Match the juban collar and kimono collar at the same height on the back. Make the isosceles triangles by slightly pulling down the kimono upper wear.

19. Match the front panels
Put the right cord through the opening under the left sleeve, and layer the left panel over the right panel.

20. Cross the cords
Cross the cords at the back, and bring them to the front.

21. Straighten the upper wear and tie the cords
Straighten the collars to hide the hollow of your throat, and tie the cords. Smooth out the front and back panels as above picture. Adjust the front panel to look neat

musubi
- Kyoto -

〒604-8035 京都市中京区新京極通三条下る桜之町 495-2
TEL:075-256-0303 FAX:075-256-0301
<https://musubi-kyoto.jp/>

Prepare a Kimono Obi, and wear it at your waist after all the steps are completed.